The college boys reported a joyous time, but no sleep was had by the neighbors.

LITTLE SHARE ORPHANS ARE GIVEN PLAYTHINGS The three little Share children, whose parents lost their lives as the result of a fire at their South Side home early in the week, learned of a kind and sympathetic world on Thanksgiving day when boxes of toys began to pour in on them.

Nortimer M. Thiese, manager of the Millard hotel, started it. He thought it could be appropriate to send a Thanksgiving dinner to the little orphans. He learned that they were in the City Emergency hospital ill with chicken-pox. The hospital would not permit them to receive the food because they were on a diet. Mr. Thiese instead sent them the next best thing, toys. Others followed suit, and now if Santa Claus should miss the Share children they would scarcely notice it.

LOSES MONEY ORDER AND MAIL CARRIER FINDS IT A. J. Keating of Lincoln, Neb., reported to the postmaster that his pocket-book had been stolen, containing a money order for $17 which he had bought but not sent. A few hours later a mail collector brought the money order in. He had found it in a letter box at Seventeenth and Leavenworth streets. The thief evidently didn't care to risk cashing the order and dropped it in the box to get rid of it.

GUEST AT CASTLE HOTEL WAKES TO FIND BED ON FIRE G. C. Brown, guest of the Hotel Castle, went to sleep Thanksgiving night to wake up and find his bed on fire. The flames were extinguished after about $50 worth of damage had been done. Brown was arrested and charged with malicious destruction of property. He was fined $5 and costs.

One Girl Discovered Who Really Did Do Christmas Shopping Early

Omaha is already famous as the home of some of the celebrated in art, music, literature and bowling. But a young lady living near Forty-third and Dodge streets bids fair to eclipse all these.

For the last two or three weeks she has come home often with mysterious packages. Others were delivered at the house and she stowed them all away in secret places. To a friend on Thanksgiving day she opened one of the mysterious packages and displayed a beautiful doll.

"My," exclaimed the friend, "getting off one of his justly-earned packages and going home, you seem to be starting your Christmas shopping early."

"Oh, yes all through with it," she said. "I beg pardon?" he queried, thinking he had misunderstood.

"I have done all my Christmas shopping," she reiterated. Stunned, he simply gazed at her, speechless. Then, "Do you mean?" he asked, "that you have done all your Christmas shopping early?"

"Yes," she replied. "I have. Most people talk about doing their Christmas shopping early, but they don't. They keep putting it off. This year I just decided to do it and I got busy. Why, it was easy. And now I can avoid the big jam just before Christmas and make it that much easier on the clerks."

"Do you think your action will be approved by the Procrastinators' club?" he inquired.

"I don't know," she said. "I'm going to the Do-It-Next-Week association."

"I don't care," she continued. "Oh, by the Put-it-Off-Till-Tomorrow Society."

"Ishkabibble," she concluded, falling for a moment into the French lisp. He sat for a moment stunned. Then he rose and took his derby from the hall-rack.

"Where are you going, dear?" he inquired. (The last word is inserted merely for euphony.)

"I'm going down to see Billie Byrne," he said, excitedly.

"Who's Billie Byrne?"

"Who's the Orphan. He's always looking for headlines. I can just see the big letters on the billboards now, 'Woman Who Completed Her Christmas Shopping in November.' I'm going to try to get you a contract at $2,000 a week."

"What's the matter with you?" he asked, looking at her strangely.

"I'm going to see Billie Byrne," he said, excitedly.

Another Doll

For Our Little Busy Bees WHO GOT THE FIRST ONE?

Vesta Laird, 2711 E. St., So. Side, who collected 546 pictures. My, what a lot! We don't believe it will take as many pictures to get Dorothy, but we can't tell. You just keep pegging away and collect all the pictures you can, and maybe you will win her. There's one thing sure, some little girl will win her this week. Some say she is even more beautiful than Alice. Anyway, she is certainly very pretty, with her dark hair and eyes, beautifully dressed, and 24 inches high.

Dorothy will be given free to the little girl, under 10 years of age, that brings or mails us the largest number of doll's pictures cut out of the Daily and Sunday Bee before 4 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 27th.

Her picture will be in The Bee every day this week. Cut them all out and ask your friends to save the pictures in their paper for you, too.

See how many pictures of Dorothy you can get, and be sure to turn them in to The Bee office before 4 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 27th.

You can see Dorothy at The Bee Office Address, Doll Dept., Omaha Bee.

Let The Bee get you a good job. "Situations Wanted" ads are free
